Standards

The standards that apply to electrical and electronic products are referred to in the booklet Electromagnetic Compatibility Framework: Information for Suppliers Residential Commercial and Light Industry. The Australian Communications Authority (ACA) has formally adopted these standards under s.162 of the Radiocommunications Act 1992 for the purposes of EMC Compliance Labelling and notice of this was published in the Commonwealth of Australia Gazette. Copies of standards are available from Standards Australia.

We remind you that the ACA will conduct random audits to ensure compliance with the applicable standards, and compliance documentation will be reviewed as part of that audit process.

Authorisation to use the C-Tick Mark

The C-Tick Mark is a certification trademark registered at the Trade Marks Office. This letter authorises your company to use the C-Tick Mark on your EMC compliance labels and related product information.

The mark must be used strictly in accordance with the notice made under s.182 of the Radiocommunications Act 1992 and the Rules lodged at the Trade Marks Office. In addition, the mark must not be used in any way, which is likely to be misleading, or harmful to the compliance labelling scheme, or damaging to the reputation of the ACA.

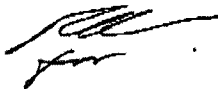

Unauthorised or misleading use of this mark will be contrary to the Radiocommunications Act 1992, and the Trade Practices Act 1974.

Our requirements for the representation of the mark on the compliance labels and other product information are set out in the attached Guide to Use of Compliance Labels.

The C-Tick mark is available for downloading from the ACA's website www.aca.gov.au, under "Standards & Compliance", then choose "Compliance Marks" from the left menu. In addition, bromides and electronic copies of the mark may be purchased from Standards Australia Software Services, PO Box 5420, Sydney NSW 2000 Telephone No (02) 8206 6601 or 1300 654646 or Facsimile No 1300 654949.

If at any stage you are uncertain as to what your obligations are in respect of standards and compliance labelling or require additional information, please call the New South Wales Regional Office on (02) 9245 4000 or email us at nswro@aca.gov.au.

Yours sincerely

Standards

The standards that apply to Customer equipment and cabling products are referred to in the Telecommunications (Customer equipment and Cabling) Notice 2001. The Australian Communications Authority (ACA) has formally adopted these standards by promulgating the notice in the Commonwealth of Australia Gazette.

We remind you that the ACA will conduct random audits to ensure compliance with the applicable standards, and compliance documentation will be reviewed as part of that audit process.

Authorisation to use the A-Tick and A / Mark

This letter authorises your company to use the A-Tick and A / marks on your Customer equipment and cabling and related product information.

The mark must be used strictly in accordance with the notice made under s.407 of the Telecommunications Act 1997. In addition, the mark must not be used in any way which is likely to be misleading, or harmful to the compliance labelling scheme, or damaging to the reputation of the ACA.

Unauthorised or misleading use of this mark will be contrary to the Telecommunications Act 1997 and the Trade Practices Act 1974.

The A-Tick mark is available for downloading from the ACA's website www.aca.gov.au, under "Standards & Compliance", then choose "Compliance Marks" from the left menu. In addition, bromides and electronic copies of the mark may be purchased from Standards Australia Software Services, PO Box 5420, Sydney NSW 2000 Telephone No (02) 8206 6601 or 1300 654646 or Facsimile No 1300 654949.

If at any stage you are uncertain as to what your obligations are in respect of standards and compliance labelling or require additional information, please call the New South Wales Regional Office on (02) 9245 4000 or email us at nswro@aca.gov.au.
