

RISCO Group's E-News

May edition

A word from the Editor

We have all now recovered from Ifsec and despite the current climate, it was still a successful show for us, with a fantastic number of you visiting our stand. We received great comments about the products displayed, especially the new ProSYS Keypad with its functionality and design. Ifsec is a good opportunity for us to obtain your feedback on our products and the company as a whole. So a big thank you to all of you who made the effort and visited our stand.

RISCO visits Royalty

One of the more notable visitors to Ifsec 2009 was HRH Prince Michael of Kent. His visit enabled him to gain more insight into the work of the BSIA's Export Council (of which he is a patron). As a BSIA member, RISCO's stand was one of the ports of call of HRH's tour of Ifsec, and Prince Michael was impressed with our systems and technology. Mr Graham Bolton, RISCO's Vice President in Sales for Europe demonstrated the SynopSYS Building Management System and gave him a brief background to the Company and its products.

Minister of Interiors

Major General Ahmed Al Raisi, Minister of Interiors in Abu Dhabi was another high profile visitor to the RISCO stand this year. Again Graham Bolton enlightened the General on our company ethics and gave him an insight into our product range.

Ifsec Awards

We can't always be winners we discovered at the Ifsec Awards, and congratulations to the companies who did win. We are pleased and proud that we were shortlisted for 3 awards, which shows our high status and commitment and is still fantastic in my book.
